LOCAL NEWS

Born, to Mr and Mrs Leach, a daughter on Aug. 8th.

Mr Len Poxon is wearing a smile these days, since Mrs Len returned from Calgary with a real fine son. More congratulations.

Bill Braisher forgot to put one of his famous Nose Nets on his car on Wednesday, so the car tired of fighting flies took to the water near Jim Hays coulee. Nobody was hurt and Bill was seen sailing into Carbon next morning with his Tin Lizzie looking like The Wreck of the Hesperus.

We are glad to welcome back to Carbon Mr and Mrs S.F. Torrance after their holiday down east.

In the matter of the election of an elder, the ballots are not yet all in. Be sure to register your ballot and send it in next Sunday night. The nominees are Mr Jas. Gordon and Mr H. Hoding.

A party of Forresters motored to Calgary Thursday afternoon to participate in some degree work Thursday night.

May we be allowed to congratulate Mr and Mrs J.W. Work on the arrival of an infant son. Mr Work is at present in Doc. McFarlens old residence.

Once more we must congratulate another proud father in the person of George Wise. Mr and Mrs Wise were presented with another boy a short while ago.

One of our local mathematicians after a careful study has discovered that Aberdeen Ave., Carbon, can not be blamed for the present putting against depopulation because after a careful census he discovered that this well known street harbours over fifty of the young generation.

We might advise our local city Dads, it is quiet an insult to Carbon stock owners, when a man with a whole string of "Longears" can blow into our pleasant little village and turn the whole darn bunch loose to bother our good citizens, and then the citizen, to be in keeping with the village hard by-law, must of necessity keep their stock pinned up. There's something wrong some where.

Why not give Arthur Fletcher a little job to round up some of these way-ward stock?

We fail to see why the majority of our good people must keep within the village by-law, in regard to having receptacles in their toilets WHEN one of leading councillors fail to comply with said by-law.

On the big posters it is advertised that the Farmers' Exchange Store will be open after 6 o'clock. This has been cancelled in order to comply to the by-law.

The Menace of Bolshevism

During recent months, reference in the press of Canada to the activities of the radical socialistic Bolshevik and Communist movements have not been as frequent as was the case a year or so ago, but this does not mean that the menace to our free British institutions has passed. Notwithstanding the anxieties and arduous duties at present imposed on the statesmen of Great Britain because of the troubles in Ireland, the complex problem of world disarmament, and the gigantic financial difficulties to be overcome following the war, leaders in government in the Old Country are not overlooking the danger that still threatens from the Bolshevik propaganda.

A committee of the House of Lords, under the chairmanship of the Duke of Northumberland, spent several months of investigation and research into the activities of these revolutionary organizations and in a report recently issued it is stated that there is overwhelming evidence that an International conspiracy exists which aims at the destruction of all existing institutions of government and society, of all religion, of all moral laws, and all property rights, throughout Great Britain, Canada and other Overseas Dominions.

This report sets forth that the main points in the Revolutionary programme are:—

- (1) The national power of Great Britain and other Allied States is to be broken down by the fomenting of internal revolutions, through appeals to class hatred, and by efforts to obtain greater freedom and privileges for one class of people. Governments which are strong are to be weakened by the introduction of Socialism, which will pave the way to anarchy.
- (2) Internationalism is to be taught.
- (3) In every possible way influence is to be secured over public officials.
- (4) As religion is the moral mainstay of all government, it is to be destroyed.
- (5) Property owning is to be rendered impossible—by means of a thousand laws, restrictions and taxes, thus bringing about some form of State Socialism, or Communism, or Anarchy.

The Communist Party, directed and subsidized from Moscow, exerts its power through magazines and printed matter, inculcating ideas of Red Revolution into the minds of the people, and by a process known as "boring from within." It has been established for perverting the young by the teaching of Communism and Atheism. In this connection it is important to note that there are over twenty weekly newspapers in Canada teaching and preaching Socialism and Communism, many of them of the most radical kind.

Despite all his many other duties and responsibilities, David Lloyd George, who is a radical of the sane and progressive type, felt impelled recently to sound a word of warning as to the danger that confronts British institutions from this subtle enemy. The British Prime Minister is reported as saying:

"The military danger is over, but there are greater, more insidious, more permanent dangers still remaining—the dangers that have arisen from the new conditions in this and every land, the new ideas that have arisen, the new organizations that have suddenly risen into great powers. What is the peril? It is the phenomenal rise to power of a new party, with new purposes of the most subversive character. It calls itself Labor, but it is really Socialist."

"If anyone doubts the reality of the danger, I would ask him to read the Socialist and Labor papers. We rarely see them, and we do not quite see what they are after, but what they write in these papers is repeated on hundreds and thousands of platforms, to hundreds and thousands and millions of people. And they are beginning to believe it. Socialism is fighting, and you will find it in these papers—to destroy everything that great prophets and leaders labored for generations to build up. Private enterprise, individual effort, the stimulus of reasonable gain, the present organization of commerce, of industry, of credits—all that goes if this new system which is being preached, succeeds. Even the political liberty which they build up is being threatened."

The old and tried Labor organizations of Canada and the United States are aware of the danger which threatens and are out combating it. The business communities are becoming more and more aware of it. It is time the average man who loves the little home he has built up by patient effort and self-denial, the man with his quarter or half section of land, the men and women who know that in the public school and the church are to be found the real safeguards and guarantees of personal liberty and real political freedom, should bestir themselves and vigorously oppose this enemy to all that is dearest and best in life.

"There's a Reason"

Knew His Name

The Poet Whittier's Dog Was An Intelligent Animal.

During one of the last birthday celebrations of the poet Whittier, he was visited by a celebrated oratorio singer. The lady was asked to sing, and, seating herself at the piano, she began the beautiful ballad, "Robin Adair." She had hardly begun when Mr Whittier's pet dog came into the room and, seating himself by her side, watched her as if fascinated, and listened with a delight unusual for an animal. When she finished he came and put his paw very gravely into her hand and licked her cheek. "Robin takes that as a tribute to himself," said Mr. Whittier. "He also is a 'Robin Adair.'" The dog, hearing his own name, evidently considered that he was the hero of the song. From that moment, during the lady's visit, he was her devoted attendant. He kept by her side when she was indoors, and accompanied her when she went to walk. When she went away, he carried her satchel in his mouth to the gate, and watched her departure with every evidence of distress.—St. Nicholas.

PAINFUL DIARRHOEA CRAMPS IN STOMACH

Mr. Fred Funston, Craik, Sask., writes:—"A year ago last harvest I was taken with a sudden attack of diarrhoea which completely laid me out, and in a few hours I had to quit work. The cramps in my stomach were dreadful, the beads of perspiration would stand out on my face at times I was in such great distress. At last I got a chance to send to town for a couple of bottles of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I used it according to the way I felt and soon obtained a great change for the better, for which I was very thankful. I don't know what the cause of my sickness was except the extremely hot weather and the active work of stooking the wheat."

Several of my neighbors were taken the same as myself and had the doctor attend them, but they didn't get any great relief until I advised them to use "Dr. Fowler's," when they soon experienced a great change.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 76 years and many cheap imitations are being offered to the public.

The Chinese are ahead of the world in the preparation of roast pork for the table. After it has come out of the oven, it is hung in the smoke of various aromatic herbs, which gives it a delicious flavor and robs it of the porky taste which is offensive to some palates.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any one of these troubles may prove deadly if not properly treated. During the summer the mothers' best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Successful Family

He was a young artist, and although a very gifted man, the world had not yet recognized what a man they had amongst them.

Still, success was coming his way little by little, and he was proudly telling his life story to a patron.

"A few years ago," he asserted, "I was quite unknown, but now my work is hung on the line!"

Then a bitter thought flittered through his brain, and he added: "So is my wife's."—London Answers.

Drink Water When Tired.

Dr. Eliza E Mosher urged lately the members of the Women's Medical Society of New York, to drink a glass of water at 10 a.m. and others at 3, 4 and 5 p.m. This, she told them, would dilute the products of fatigue which were entering the blood and causing the tired feeling.

Saskatchewan Grain Man Found Operation Was Not Necessary

"I was doubtful about Tanlac until I tried it myself and now I know it does everything that is claimed for it," said Jacob Popp, well-known and prosperous grain grower of McNutt, Sask.

"I had a bad form of stomach trouble for sixteen years, which was steadily growing worse as time passed. I did not dare eat heavy food or pastry and at times I couldn't retain a thing on my stomach, not even a glass of water. I would bloat up with gas until my heart would beat like a trip-hammer and I used to have awful pains in my chest as well as in the pit of my stomach. My liver was all out of order and I was bothered a good deal with headaches. I was in such a bad fix I could scarcely sleep at night or work during the day. In fact, I spent two weeks in the hospital and thought an operation was going to be necessary. Luckily, the operation was deferred and as soon as I left the hospital I began taking Tanlac.

"I can hardly realize that so little medicine could do as much good as Tanlac has for me. Although I took only three bottles, I gained twenty-eight pounds in weight and am eating, sleeping and working better than I have in many years. Tanlac is truly a remarkable medicine."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

The Keeping Of Poultry

Pamphlet Tells How Poultry Can Be Made to Pay.

If resident in either town or country and you wish to know how best to keep poultry and secure the most satisfactory results, consult a pamphlet treating of the subject prepared by the Dominion Poultry Husbandman, F. C. Elford, and recently issued by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. The pamphlet can be had free on applications to the Publications Branch. It tells of how poultry can be made to pay, how the birds should be housed and fed, how they should be treated in winter and summer, how to commence keeping in a small way, the equipment that is desirable, how to choose a breed, how to hatch and rear, and how to gather, keep, or market the eggs. In short all the essentials to success in poultry keeping for home consumption or selling are clearly and explicitly explained. In the term poultry are included turkeys, geese, ducks, guinea fowls and pigeons, the raising and care of which are fully discussed. Numerous illustrations of types of birds, and of methods of housing and feeding contribute to make the pamphlet an invaluable compendium on poultry-keeping and marketing.

Distress In The Throat Caused Great Anxiety

Not an uncommon experience was that of Mrs. H. S. Wilmet, of Shulee, N.S.: "Many remedies failed, still splendid results were found in 'Catarrhzone.' I have been a most dreadful sufferer from Bronchial trouble and Catarrh. Oh damp days, I would hawk and suffer great distress in my throat. I used all kinds of medicine but didn't get permanent relief till I had Catarrhzone. It strengthened my throat, stopped my cough, and made me well." Try Catarrhzone yourself, see what wonders it works on a bad throat, or colds, catarrh, bronchitis. Different from the old way, because you breathe Catarrhzone. Get the dollar outfit which includes the inhaler and lasts two months. Small size 50c. Dealers, The Catarrhzone Co., Montreal.

Far Away Green Fields

By E. L.

Elizabeth had a hard day. It had been dismal and cold and the furnace had been giving trouble, and the babies had been cross, and as she looked discontentedly out at the snow-clad prairie, stretching away to the horizon, she made up her mind, as women sometimes will, that she and John and the babies should seek a warmer clime. What was the use of living in a place, so cold and miserable for such a great part of the year and where the women and children were of necessity cooped up in the house all the time, and where, chief aggravation, they had to spend so much money on coal. No wonder, she thought, that so many people left this God-forsaken spot and went away to British Columbia or the Southern States where in the sunlight and the flowers life must be worth while.

And while she undressed the babies, she still called them the babies although Harold was two and Winifred nearly four, ways and means of getting out of the cold prairie country passed continuously through her mind. Of course she knew she would miss her old friends, but then thought she, other people moved and they had to leave their friends and seemed quite contented in so doing. Elizabeth did not take into consideration the fact that she clung to her old ways and her old associations more than most people and forgot that the prettiest scene in the world was always more enjoyable to her if she could contemplate it surrounded by those she loved. No, like so many people who are guided mainly by impulse she did not go into the details at all. She decided that she hated this cold, hard snow bound country

SUFFERING OF YOUNG WOMEN

This Letter Tells How It May be Overcome—All Mothers Interested.

Toronto, Ont.—"I have suffered since I was a school girl with pain in my left side and with cramps, growing worse each year until I was all run down. I was so bad at times that I was unfit for work. I tried several doctors and patent medicines, but was only relieved for a short time. Some of the doctors wanted to perform an operation, but my father objected. Finally I learned through my mother of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and how thankful I am that I tried it. I am relieved from pain and cramps, and feel as if it has saved my life. You may use my letter to help other women as I am glad to recommend the medicine."—Mrs. H. A. GOODMAN, 14 Rockvale Ave., Toronto.

Those who are troubled as Mrs. Goodman was should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Those who need special advice may write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. These letters will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

and that she wanted to live where it was softer, more pleasant and beautiful. By the time she had kissed the babies "good-night" she had mentally persuaded her husband to give up his position, sell their home and, in fancy, she was sitting on the train with the children bound for the "sunny south."

As luck would have it John came home from the office somewhat dispirited. Everything had gone wrong there on that bitterly cold day; there had been misunderstandings with the office force, a scene with the boss, and an aggravating story of conscientious and unappreciated effort, so that when Elizabeth unfolded her plan to him of getting out and hieing themselves away to a place which her fancy began to paint as a veritable Utopia, he lent a ready ear and said: "All right, I'll put the house in Green's hands tomorrow for sale and if we get our price, we'll get out. I'll write to some firms where I might get a job and tell that sucker," meaning his boss, "to get someone else to handle his old job!"

It all worked like a charm. They were able to sell their house at a splendid figure, more than they had hoped for, and just when they were rejoicing over this piece of good fortune John received a very pleasing reply to one of his letters of application, offering him a good position in a small town in one of the southern states. Elizabeth was delighted, and even when they sold their furniture hardly felt a qualm, so pleased did she imagine she was to get away from the snow and cold of the prairies. It was only when her friends began to look sad and when her mother shook her head sorrowfully that she felt any remorse, but she tried to cheer her mother up by saying: "Well, mother, if it's nice there, perhaps you could come too!" The old lady shook her head and remarked:

"I am getting too old to transplant now Elizabeth. I came to this prairie country many and many a year ago from dear old Scotland which is beautiful enough, ye know, but I have gotten used to the ice and the snow and the wonder of the prairie with its golden grain in the summer after its travail of the winter months, and we have prospered here. Na, na, I wouldna like to change again. The prairie with all her hardness has been a friend to me and mine and I'm thinkin' I'll be buried here."

Elizabeth knew the story of her parents' immigration to the prairie country, how they had come with nothing and how they had worked and striven and saved. For years there had seemed little reward for their efforts, but at last they came into their own and from poverty had gained comfort and a real competence in their later years, and for a moment a little doubt crept into her mind as to the wisdom of her plan and then she remembered a picture of the beautiful country to which they were going, which had been sent to her, and as she visioned the children, Harold and Winnie gambolling amidst the flowers and the roses, she banished all regrets.

When John and Elizabeth arrived in Maryland, the roses were in full bloom. The air was hot and the atmosphere somewhat heavy, but of this Elizabeth made no mention. She had determined to like her new surroundings. Then the little prairie bred children began to wilt in the heat and John looked paler and paler as the days went by. Elizabeth, though a sociable little soul enough among her own folks was shy and distant with strangers and the southern methods did not appeal to her harder notions and so she was left very much alone. She, Elizabeth, who had been the centre of her little community at home!

"Mamma," said Harold one sunlit day in July, when the bees hummed amidst the flowers, and the grapes hung heavy on the vines which climbed about the house, "My head aches and my tummy hurts, I would like to see my Gamma." The usually bright little fellow stretched himself quietly on the couch in the sitting room and Elizabeth felt a pang of dread as she looked at his heavy eyes and pale little face. He had never been sick at home. She glanced quickly at Winnie and thought the child seemed dull too. Was this to be the result of leaving her home and friends so that they might play in the sunshine? She asked herself. Was she to lose either or both of her children? Her heart cried out in protest as she flew to the telephone and called a doctor.

Both the children were very very ill, and the doctor told Elizabeth and John that the climate did not agree with them. John, too, had an illness and Elizabeth felt herself drooping and languid, but she felt she dare not let herself go for the sake of the others and many were the anxious pleading prayers she prayed that they all might be spared to return home again. She was so tired and so lonely amidst all the beauty and languor of the south, and actually longed for the snow bound wintry streets of her own little prairie town and did not feel that she cared how much coal they had to burn, if only she could feel the invigorating frost bitten breezes again, which she felt put new life and vigor and ambition into people.

So John wrote to his old cranky "boss," and received a letter from him in reply which brought tears to both their eyes as Elizabeth and he read it. It said that they would be only too glad to have him back, and promised him an advancement in the very near future, and hinted, wisely, too, that for a young man there were no better opportunities than in the prairie country.

And six months from the time they left the little town they returned. They had spent a great deal of money and the babies had suffered much, but Elizabeth and John had learned a wonderful lesson regarding distant green fields which seem so beautiful in most of our lives, at some time or other, and which prove merely a mirage after all.

And they settled down to make the best of their lives on the prairie, with its cold, its snow and its hardness, for they had found that there were sufficient compensations to them to make up for the whole of the sunny south-land.

Summer Storage of Coal.

On the subject of storage of domestic coal during the summer it has been usual in England when coal was stored without shelter, that a wall was built of coal blocks around the central pile, and a coat of whitewash applied over all; and that this had the effect of preserving the coal from the action of the weather.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Children suffering from worms soon show the symptoms, and any mother can detect the presence of these parasites by the writhings and fretting of the child. Merchants Bank Officials Express Tempered Optimism Regarding Business Situation

President and General Manager Review the Canadian Business Situation With Much Hope—Financial Position of the Bank an Exceptionally Strong One—Crop Outlook Encouraging.

At the annual meeting of the Merchants Bank of Canada, the various reports which were presented showed that this institution occupies a commanding position in Canadian financial affairs. The addresses of the President, Sir Montagu Allan, and the General Manager, Mr. D. C. Macarow, were concise statements of present day conditions and contained an optimistic survey of the future. These reports showed that every department of the bank is in a most excellent condition, and would indicate that this bank is rapidly increasing the sphere of its influence in every avenue of trade and commerce at home and abroad.

The President's Address.

Sir Montagu Allan in part said: "The general depression in business, felt to a greater or lesser degree in every country in the world, has affected the business of the bank to some extent, but we hope the low point of depression has been passed, and that there will soon be a change for the better. The coal strike in England which will no doubt result in the loss of a great deal of trade, and the unrest and discontent which seems to prevail in nearly all the countries of Europe, give rise to serious financial problems to be reckoned with, but no man in this country who is strong and healthy, can afford to be a pessimist for any length of time. The known and undeveloped resources are sufficient to ensure future prosperity."

New Issue of Stock.

"As mentioned in last year's report a further issue of $2,100,000 of new stock was made, making the paid-up capital of the bank $10,500,000, and by the transfer of the premium on the new stock to the reserve account, the rest now stands at $9,450,000."

"The shareholders of the bank now number 2,997, as against 2,622 in 1920, being an increase of 375 during the year."

Current loans and discounts stand at $109,183,000, as against $113,198,000 last year. It will be seen, therefore, that this bank continues to extend its ample share of assistance to the industries of the country.

General Manager is Optimistic.

Following the president's concise yet comprehensive review of the situation, as reflected in the year's statements, said Mr. Macarow, there is little left for me to add beyond, perhaps, a word or two by way of amplification.

It will be observed that in comparison with last year's figures our total assets show a shrinkage of about $7,000,000, or, roughly, 3½ per cent, which, in view of all the surrounding circumstances must be regarded as a satisfactory showing, the liquid position being well maintained by the while.

The trend of our interest-bearing deposits for the same period has been steadily upward, an increase in that department of about $7,000,000 being shown, but this gain has been more than offset by the decline in the total ordinary deposits. A year ago, however, under the heading of demand deposits, a sum of about $8,000,000 stood to the credit of the Government in connection with Victory Loan payments. This amount, which, of course, was of a purely temporary nature, was withdrawn during the year so that, after making allowance for it, the total deposits and total assets about held their own, a satisfactory achievement we have no doubt you will agree.

Crop Reports Are Promising.

Crop conditions throughout the country are at the present moment exceptionally promising. If I may say a word as to general conditions it will be one of tempered optimism, having a due comprehension of the many difficulties which require to be met but having, at the same time, a proper appreciation of the actual and potential riches of this country.

There are indications that the monetary position, broadly speaking, is less stringent and that the general liquidity of credit now in evidence is continuing to develop further.

Altogether, and in a word, it is not difficult to be an optimist as to the future of "Canada Unlimited," to borrow the apt expression recently used by an eminent Canadian.

The Board of Directors was re-elected, with Sir H. Montagu Allan as President, and F. Howard Wilson as Vice-President.

Saskatchewan Offered German Airplane

Souvenir From Canada Air Board
Could Be Used.

A German airplane, to be added to the Saskatchewan war souvenirs or to be available for flights, is the offer made by the Canada Air Board to the Saskatchewan branch of the Canadian Air Force Association.

The type of machine which would be donated has not been specified, but it is understood that it would be airworthy and not merely something to be put in a hangar and left "to be looked at." At present the only stumbling block to accepting the board's offer is the payment of the freight, estimated at about $200.

Strong Plea Is Made For Peace Of The World

President Harding Speaks of High Ideals of Canada and the United States, Following Address of Hon. N. W. Rowell.

Washington. — President Harding delivering a commencement address at the American University here, found the subject of world peace occupying so prominent a place on the programme that he was prompted to depart from his prepared manuscript and declare for the preservation of peace by sovereign states without the interference of a world "superpower."

The President's remarks followed an address by Hon. N. W. Rowell, of Canada, who suggested that the best contribution North America could make to civilization was "for men on this side of the water to stand behind the movement for peaceful settlement of international disputes."

"I do not think I could let the occasion pass," said the President, "without giving assent to many of the appropriate and appealing things just uttered by Mr. Rowell. I liked his expression that American and Canadian ideals are in common and when he spoke about the North American contribution to present day civilization and to the world, it occurred to me that the example of the two great people living side by side in peace, in confidence and in mutual understanding, is about the finest contribution that two nations could give to the world.

"I have said on many occasions that if all the nations of the earth were as honest and unselfish as our republic, there never would be another war. I will revise it today and say that if all the nations of the earth are as unselfish and devoted to their ideals as the United States and Canada there never will be another war.

"But if I may say without a discordant note—for there is none in my heart—I call attention to the fact that the United States of America and the Dominion of Canada have dwelt side by side and settled their controversies satisfactorily without resort to a super-power, but by the exercise of the sovereignty of free peoples dealing with one another; if we can commit civilized humanity to abiding righteousness and everlasting justice and inspire them with our example, we will have made a long stride toward the peace the world craves."

Mutiny of Chinese Troops

Attempt to Check Opium Smuggling Caused Uprising.

Hankow, China.—Mutinous Chinese troops have looted and partially burned Ichang, a treaty port 156 miles northwest of here, for the second time in six months, according to official reports reaching Hankow.

British, United States and Japanese gunboats have been despatched to Ichang.

Consular reports indicate that attempts to check troops in reported opium smuggling operations caused the uprising.

Casualties have not been determined, but are expected to exceed those of the November mutiny at Ichang when sixty were killed and two million dollars in property destroyed.

Chemist Says He Can Make Gold

Has Also Solved Problem of Making Other Metals.

New York.—Dr. Charles Benson Davis, of this city, in a paper which he has just submitted to Engineering Foundation, claims to have solved the problem of manufacturing gold. He declares he has already successfully demonstrated the possibility of making gold and other chemical elements, such as silver, platinum and copper, by transmutation of a common element. He has shown samples of the metals he claims to have made to members of the Engineering Foundation and has requested that body to investigate his claims and his methods.

Anti-Cigarette Law In Utah.

Salt Lake City, Utah.—Utah's anti-cigarette law, passed by the last Legislature, is now effective. Simultaneously the shelves of tobacco stores were cleared of cigarettes, and there were no advertisements in the newspapers of cigarettes. The law provides against smoking in public places, which are defined and prohibits the giving away, sale, exchange or barter of cigarettes.

Retaliatory Duty On Lumber.

Washington.—The ways and means committee of the House decided to include in the Permanent Tariff Bill a duty on lumber similar to that imposed by Canada upon lumber sent to the Dominion from the United States. This is 25 per cent. The proposal was bitterly opposed by several of the committee members and it was adopted only after a lengthy fight.

Silver Strike in B.C.

The Coal Shortage in Britain

To Meet Situation National Kitchen Sold Hot Water to the Working People.

Hull, Eng.—The shortage of coal has been so serious here during the strike of miners that the people were unable to obtain hot water. To meet this situation, the National Kitchen, which happened to have a supply of coal, sold hot water to the working people at one-half penny a bucket.

The shortage of coal also produced a shortage of ice as it handicapped the artificial ice plants. To obviate this, trawlers were sent to Holland to bring coal which they exchanged here for ice.

Immigrants Barred

German, Austrian and Turk Tourists Can Enter Canada.

Ottawa.—The Department of Immigration and Colonization says that tourists do not require passports as a condition of entry from Canada to the U.S. or for the return journey.

Immigrants coming to Canada to work or reside from Germany, Austria, Hungary, Bulgaria or Turkey, are debarred. The ban does not apply to persons coming to Canada from these countries when belonging to the non-immigrant classes.

To Foster Cotton Growing

Grant For Industry Within the Empire Is To Be Increased.

Manchester, Eng.—Winston Spencer Churchill, colonial secretary, addressing the British Cotton Growing Association, announced that it was the Government's intention to devote £1,000,000 to foster cotton growing in the British Empire instead of £50,000 yearly for five years, as formerly promised.

Mr. Churchill said that although much had been achieved in cotton growing in the Empire, it little compared with what might be done. Referring to Egyptian cotton, he declared it to be superior in quality and only second in quantity to that obtained from the United States.

Prices Must Come Down.

New York.—Prices in the United States must either come down or those in Europe must go up to meet them if the economic situation in this country is to be settled, Mark Sheldon, Australian commissioner to the U.S. declared at a farewell dinner given him by a session of foreign press correspondents. Until this adjustment has taken place, he said, there could be no resumption of the enormous prosperity the U.S. has enjoyed.

Western Crop Conditions Continue Favorable

Winnipeg.—There has been another week of almost perfect weather conditions with rains very general over the whole of the three provinces. Insect damage in the shape of cutworms and grasshoppers is still spoken of in several points. The cutworm damage is confined largely to Alberta with one small outbreak reported from Western Saskatchewan. As regards the grasshopper menace, all provinces speak of the pests, but the same reports say that all interested parties are on the job of combatting them.

Indians Sell Standing Timber

Redskins Will Become Wealthy Through Big Deal.

Superior, Wis.—Contracts with Chippewa Indians of the Net Lake, Minn., reservation have been signed by the Northwestern Paper Company of Colquet, Minn., whereby the company will pay them approximately $500,000 for from 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 feet of sawed timber and pulpwood in the vicinity of Net Lake.

The deal marks the sale of the last large tract of standing timber in the Lake Superior district owned by Indians. Some of the Indians will receive as high as $10,000 and $15,000 for timber on an 80-acre allotment. From paupers, many of the redskins have become wealthy.

The Indians are among the most primitive in the north woods and what they will do with their newly acquired fortunes is causing Government agents much concern.

Prevent Confiscation In Russia.

Riga.—A Moscow despatch announces that a decree is being prepared to prevent further confiscation of money from private persons, except by court trial. Another decree provides that anyone arrested must be given the reason for this within 24 hours and, if a member of a trade union, may be released if the union vouches for him.

Admiral Sims' London Speech.

Washington.—Secretary of the Navy Denby has instructed Rear-Admiral Sims to advise the Navy Department immediately by cable as to whether he was correctly quoted in press accounts of an address he made to the English-speaking Union at a luncheon in London, June 7.

Would Unseat De Valera

London.—Practical action has been instituted, says the Belfast correspondent of the Evening News with the view to making void the election of Eamonn de Valera, the Irish Republican leader, as a member of the new Ulster Parliament, on the ground that he is an alien. A leading firm of Belfast lawyers, according to the correspondent, has been engaged to investigate De Valera's antecedents and already steps are afoot for collection of evidence in the United States and elsewhere, especially from De Valera's speeches on the subject.

True Bear Stories

By O-GE-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyrighted)

Well he realized that if this shot was not a fatal one his chances were slim, still he went on with dauntless courage, though as he told me his heart beat a little faster than usual. At last he noted a huge dead spruce tree fallen across the track, and stopping and studying the situation he felt convinced that Mr. Bear was either concealed behind this or very close to it. Creeping up to within a few feet of the tree, full cocking his smooth bore gun, he broke a dry stick sharply and on the instant over the tree came the grizzly, mane bristling like an angry dog, mouth wide open with huge fangs exposed, growling savagely he charged right at Robert; he, waiting until the bear was so close the powder burnt his flesh, shot him right through the brain and killed him instantly. Robert camped beside his victim that night and carefully skinned him, but like so many of his kind the skin was in poor shape, scars and cuts from many fights, also traces of several old bullet wounds. He was very thin and, as Robert quaintly expressed himself, mighty hard chewing.

The inroad of the grizzly into our country caused much excitement amongst the Indian as their huge claws are much coveted by the young warriors as signs of their prowess in hunting. Old Kinistino, however, was the only one who had a necklace of these and it was exciting enough to hear him tell of his fights with them when on buffalo hunting and horse stealing excursions to the Great Plains.

In my own case there was food for thought as most of the winter on trips to Indians I was sleeping out and invariably alone, hardly ever carried fire arms and would certes have been an easy prey for a wandering grizzly.

It was the fifth night out after a trip on my homeward journey, with a game little mare named Nellie who was wise beyond description; I had a flat sled with a bulky load of furs; the weather was intensely cold, in February, I think, and I had selected a camping place somewhat earlier than usual; this in the middle of a small green poplar bluff, with a bunch of dry trees in the centre; near at hand was a dry hay-swamp well sheltered by scrub and timber and in this I tethered my pony to a green pole about the size of a fence rail, notching the centre slightly so that the tie would not slip; she could drag this about the swamp and keep herself warm by pawing the snow for the fresher grass underneath, but if she attempted to leave the swamp the pole would at once catch the trees.

About an hour's hard work gave me a camp; a nice little clearing with two large piles of wood on each side of the fire, wood cut to about five foot lengths and you can then stretch your length and enjoy the heat front and back, for in spite of severe cold you are bound to sweat more or less while travelling. Unloading the sleigh I piled the bales at the back, and this, with the snow shovelled (by snowshoe), made a break from any wind on three sides while the front was filled with a glorious fire. After a good supper and a final trip to my pony in which the tether was carefully inspected, also a quart of oats placed on the ground for her feed, I wished her goodnight, remarking at the time, "Well, Nellie, we have about forty-five miles to make tomorrow and we must start early if we intend reaching home. I think I will get up at half past two." She gave a wise little nicker and back to camp I went. My large fire had burnt down to glowing coals so I at once made up my bed and a description of this may interest readers.

The snow had been well cleaned off and on the ground I spread fine willows (there being no spruce), over this came a huge armful of hay cut with my sheath knife in the swamp, and there is nothing warmer to sleep on; on this my deer skin, killed late with the winter hair on and only scraped, not tanned as then it would be too soft and one would feel the lumps below; this is laid tail up so that you lay against the hair and do not slip off. For covering a 3½ point Hudsons Bay blanket, always white, as they are so much warmer than colored blankets, over this my rabbit skin robe and over all my duck sled wrapper which protects the bedding from any stray sparks. The fire goes out, but no matter how low the thermometer goes down, and it must have been 40 below zero that night, one can sleep warm and comfortable.

Covering up my head as is customary and necessary when exposed to such low temperatures I was soon fast asleep, and after some hours sound repose I was awakened by a tug at my bedding. Was I dreaming? No, I could both feel and hear the animal moving. My thoughts flew back to the grizzly bear, the only weapon I had was a light axe and for the life of me I could not recollect just where I had placed this over night. Well, I was up against it and could either feel or imagine the hot breath of the brute, so summoning up all my resolution I threw the bedding back and here was Nellie's wise little head within a foot of my own. Such a relief. Looking at my watch it was twenty minutes to three, so I at once rose with the blankets gracefully draped round me and made on a huge fire. My, but the little mare did enjoy it as I stripped her blanket off, it being covered with frost, and she, carefully stepping, would turn first one side and then the other to the heat. I found on examination that she was fast tethered to the pole and wondered how she could have dragged it in through the narrow path I had cut to the swamp. On looking at the tracks I decided that when the pole would catch she had nosed it straight again and continued doing this until her line allowed her to reach my camp. At breakfast, which I always shared with her, she being very fond of both bread and sugar, I made a promise, and it was that I would never part with her, and when she got beyond work she would be pensioned off. This in due time happened and she passed a serene old age surrounded by her off-spring, some of whom can be seen driving into Melfort today, handsome enough, but I doubt if any could show the same lion like courage and hardness which little Nellie proved on many a long trip.

A Careless Smoker

(Apologies to Kipling)

A fool there was and his pipe he lit
"Even as you and I"
On a forest trail were the leaves
were fit
To become ablaze from the smallest bit
Of spark--and the fool he furnished
it.
The day was windy and dry.

The forest was burned to its very roots,
Even beneath the ground.
With the flowers, the birds and the poor dumb brutes,
Old hoary oaks, and the tender shoots
Which might have made logs but for such galoots Allowed to wander around.

The lumber jack has now passed on His pay day comes no more:
And the screech-owls haunt the camp of dawn
Where the cook's tin pan woke the men of brawn.
But the mill is silent, the mills are gone,
The soil and the forest floor.

A deadly sight are those hills of rocks
Which once were beds of green.
No hope for the human, no food
for the flock,
The floods must be held by expensive locks
And the harbor is silted to the docks
The ships no more are seen.

But the fool smokes on in the forest still,
Leaves campfires burning, too.
While the patient public pays the bill
And the nations wealth is destroyed for nil.....
If the law doesn't get him, Old Satan will
When his smoking days are through.

Wheat Sixty-Six Pounds to the Bushel

Exhibitors at Edmonton Fair Had Some Good Grain

Among the exhibitors of grain at the Edmonton fair, was Mr. Price Sheppard whose entry of wheat weighed 66 pounds to the bushel. J. Strassburger, of Stony Plain, was also a prominent exhibitor in grains and vegetables. Of special interest was the exhibit of Alta Swedish red clover above which was an inscription stating that this clover which was first sown in 1915 had stood the test of six years without a single failure. This information should be of great value to the farmers as it is generally believed that red clover will not winter in Alberta, consequently, farmers do not sow this clover which is valuable not only for feed and seed, but as fertilizer. Wm. Chalmers, of Edmonton south, was the exhibitor, and he is enthusiastic in his praise of its qualities, and adaptability to the country.

Hides Do Not Figure

A provincial manufacturer assures us that the price of hides is not a factor in the cost of shoes. A prominent labor man declares that the labor cost in a pair of shoes represents only about a dollar. One must conclude that the price of an expensive pair of shoes must be caused by something like spontaneous generation.—Hamilton Herald.

For Frost Bites and Chilblains.—Chilblains come from undue exposure to slush and cold and frost-bite from the icy winds of winter. In the treatment of either an excellent preparation is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, as it counteracts the inflammation and relieves the pain. The action of the oil is prompt and its application is extremely simple.

Work Doesn't Kill.

How much trustworthy evidence is there to show that the hurry and the overcrowding of modern civilization push men into premature graves? London, New York and Chicago have each a death rate very near the lowest ever known; octogenarians are more and more common, and active business men at sixty-five are so numerous that they attract no attention.—Youth's Companion.

A Big Butter Order

Butter from the Edmonton district is in demand, and one of the largest orders ever recorded there was placed recently when Paul de Wolff of Sardis, B.C., asked Edmonton dealers to supply him with 1,000,000 pounds destined for the New York market. A million pounds' order is a big one to fill, but agents at half a dozen or more other central Alberta points are also being asked to assist in filling the order.

A WOMAN'S RIGHT TO GOOD HEALTH

Most troubles Afflicting Women Are Due to Poor Blood.

To every woman belongs the right to enjoy a healthy, active life; yet nine out of ten suffer from some form of bloodlessness. That is why one sees on every side pale, thin cheeks, dull eyes and drooping figures—sure signs of headaches, weak backs, aching limbs and uncertain health. All weak women should win the right to be well by refreshing their weary bodies with the new, rich, red blood that promptly transforms them into healthy attractive women. This new, red blood is supplied by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body. Through the use of these pills thousands of women have found benefit when suffering from anaemia, indigestion, general weakness and those ailments from which women alone suffer. Among the many women who tell of the good Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done them is Mrs. L. Hicks, Round Hill, N.S., who says: "I became very much run down in health; my blood seemed weak and watery, my strength failed, and I was so easily tired that my work was a burden. I had often read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them, and I can truly say that after using three boxes I found myself gaining, and under a further use of the pills all my old-time energy and vitality was restored. Out of my own experience I can strongly recommend this medicine."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Icebergs Carry Strange Freight.

Icebergs sometimes carry strange freight. One of the flat-topped variety, 100 feet high was seen in mid-Atlantic bearing three vessels on its icy summit. Another, near the Banks of Newfoundland, had several Polar bears walking about on it.

Cretonne Trims Muslin Apron

By Marie Belmont.

The apron of unbleached muslin is admirable for summer wear. Many of these creations are designed so that they take the place of the house dress. The model illustrated is fashioned with short sleeves and the upper part is cut long enough to blouse over the sash of cretonne. It is really a slip-over affair as the back is closed except for a small opening at the top which allows an easy exit from its enveloping folds. A band of cretonne outlines the square cut neck as well as the sleeves and pocket. A cretonne flower decorates the front.

With so thorough a preparation at hand as Miller's Worm Powders the mother who allows her children to suffer from the ravages of worms is unwise and culpably careless. A child subjected to the attacks of worms is always unhealthy, and will be stunted in its growth. It is a merciful act to rid it of these destructive parasites, especially when it can be done without difficulty.

Off the northwest coast of Australia there used to be a beautiful island 13 miles long. But it gradually sank until it disappeared entirely, and at the latest reports of sounding, it was found to be 50 feet below the surface of the water.

Time Was Not Ripe for End of the World.

I should have felt more nervous about the late comet if I had thought the world was ripe. But it is very green yet, if I am not mistaken; and besides there is a great deal of coal to use up, which I cannot bring myself to think was made for nothing. If certain things, which seem to me essential to a millennium, had come to pass I should have been frightened; but I wasn't.

A REVERIE

By R. HAMILTON

Now dying winters wildest groan is spent
The fleecy clouds rise higher in the air,
And deeper blue becomes the firmament
While from on high a voice from heaven is sent
The skylark sweetly sings his solace there.

Springing from his bed bedewed with nature's tears
He ushers in the Spring with sweet caress,
Searing until from sight he disappears
Pours forth his song in the Creator's ears,
This unseen songster lost in loveliness.

The early crocus opens its golden eye,
The daisy now bedecks the sodden lea,
Through sylvan bowers the woodnymphs coy and shy
Embraced by balmy zephyrs as they sigh
And kiss the perfume from the budding tree.

The bursting buds are drenched in sparkling dew,
A glistening gem adorns each grassy blade,
The sighing winds bid winters storms adieu,
Nature awakes and life is born anew.
And all is loveliness within the glade.

The babbling brook comes tumbling through the glen,
As feathered songsters make the woodlands ring,
The lambskin's bleat is heard o'er moor and fen,
A voice we love rings in our ears again,
It is the voice, the welcome voice of Spring.

RURAL CREDITTHE NEED OF AGRICUL-TURAL CREDIT*The Farmer Needs More Capital

A few weeks ago, we had the pleasure of interviewing Dr Tory, president of the University of Alberta, Edmonton, who, with Alwyn Bramley-Moore, were delegates for Alberta, to accompany the American Delegation in 1913, to "investigate and study in European Countries cooperative Land-Mortgage Banks, Cooperative Rural Credit Unions and similar organizations and institutions devoting their attention to the promotion of Agriculture and the Betterment of Rural Conditions."

Dr Tory, who has always been a leader in Scientific Farming and in everything that can be done for the betterment of rural life, has favored us with all the data and information at his disposition.

We have the intention of publishing an article every week, dealing with Agricultural Credit.

We don't claim any credit for these articles as they are copied from the different reports. We will classify them only in such an order as we think are appropriated to this part of the country.

While our country was being settled, the chief capital of the farm was free or cheap land plus his own intelligence and strength.

Comparatively little money capital was needed. As settled condition developed more capital was needed to make permanent improvements to buy machinery, etc. Now we have come to a time when free land is practically gone. Combined with this fact is a growing need for larger capital of which to do business.

Although the average values of farm lands in Canada do not approach those of Europe the increase in price in the price in the past decade has been very marked, and in the more prosperous parts of the country good land is very high.
In other words, if a man who does not own land wants to buy a farm of his own, he finds at once that it takes a great deal more money than it used to take simply to get possession of the land.

Since the rapidly increased use of agricultural machinery and the increase in cost of building material for farm buildings, further capital is needed by the farmer in order to purchase the proper equipment for his farm. This equipment is relatively much more expensive than it ever was before. It pays to have adequate equipment, but the initial cost is high.

Gradually but surely Canadian farmers are passing from extensive to a relatively intensive kind of farming. Now, in general, the more intensive the farming the greater the cost of equipment and maintenance per acre, as a rule, more implements; sometimes a greater investment in live stock, buildings or other fixtures. In order to make more intensive methods feasible a pretty substantial use of capital is necessary.

The credit form of capital is absolutely necessary in order to get adequate capital. This is true in the business and industrial world. Very rarely does anyone think of starting a business on cash-capital alone. If he did there would not be enough to go around. There are always risks in making investments, even of cash and there is an added risk in borrowing. But the world has found that on the whole the only way to get launched on a business career is to borrow, that is, to have credit capital. This credit is usually based partly on property, partly on expected success, and partly on the efficiency of the borrower as well as his personal character.

Now, these same needs are felt by the farmers, and are just as legitimate as in any other business.
When land was cheap, and capital
dear, the farmer could afford to use land lavishly and capital sparingly. Now that conditions are reversed the farmer has become a business man and he finds it advantageous to use the same business methods; one of these methods is the use of credit capital.

It is possible, of course, that farmers may want to speculate, and consequently to borrow money on land with the expectation that the land will rapidly rise in value. That is, they may borrow not principally in order to procure land for farming, but in order to procure land for selling. This is an abuse of credit in agriculture, and should be discouraged in every possible way, not because it is wrong to buy land to sell, but because a better use of capital is to make the land productive. What the country wants of its farm lands is not increase of price, but increase of productivity. Farm credit, therefore, as a distinguished writer has said,
should be productive and provident.
That is, money should be borrowed only in order to make a farm more efficient as a producing machine;
not merely to get a farmer out of trouble or to enable him to hold his land for an unearned rise in value.

There have been so many losses on account of mortgaged farms that a great many farmers dislike to borrow. But it may be just as wise to refrain from borrowing when capital is needed to make the farm as productive as possible, as it is wrong and foolish to borrow in order to cover up mistakes or to speculate in futures. In other words to refrain from borrowing may be almost as uneconomical as to borrow for the wrong thing. In business a certain amount of credit is considered not only legitimate but necessary to good business. Gradual our farmers must learn the same rule for themselves, but it must be used with caution.

(To be continued)

We have been informed that the grasshopper pests are likely to cause trouble at harvest time because of their fondness for binder twine.
They are known to have fondness for twine and will cut through, leaving the grain untied. If the grain is treated to a solution of two parts of kerosene to one part of creolin the hoppers will not cause any trouble in this way.
